

Introducing 'Living With Money' – Transcript

Tim Mullooly: In episode 75, we're going to be talking about Living With Money.

Welcome to the Mullooly Asset Show. I'm your host for today, Tim Mullooly.

No question today. We're actually going to do something a little bit different. I wanted to take today's episode and talk to you about a new podcast that we're starting here at the office.

The podcast is called Living With Money, and it's going live next Thursday, January 25th, so mark your calendars and get excited for that.

Me and Tom have been working hard on this podcast for the last couple of months and it's finally ready to go live.

We're getting pretty excited about that.

A little bit about the podcast. It's going to be a weekly podcast with educational episodes, as well as guest interviews.

We're going to be talking to people in the finance industry that manage money, handle money on a day-to-day basis, as well as local business owners in the surrounding area here in New Jersey and just some inspiring people, people that make money in unique ways and hopefully can inspire you to potentially make some more money yourself.

The topics for these episodes are going to be pretty basic in terms of personal finance topics. There are so many topics going back that you wish you could have learned in high school or college growing up.

Instead, in high school, they had you learning about plant and animal cells and parallelograms and all that good stuff, but you never actually learned how to properly save money or open up an investment account or even do basic taxes or start retirement planning or anything that is actually very useful to you now in real life.

We're going to be covering a lot of that in the educational episodes.

Like I said, it's going to go live January 25th next Thursday so keep an eye out for that. You can find the podcast at livingwithmoney.com.

It's also going to be on iTunes, Stitcher, SoundCloud. We have social media pages, Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, all at Living With Money.

Follow us or like us there for any updates or news about the show and hopefully you guys are excited to listen to it because we're excited to get it out to you. We've been working really hard on it.

Hopefully you'll enjoy it. That's going to do it for episode 75 of the Mullooly Asset Show. Thanks for watching and we'll see you next week.
